PERSONAL BRANDING

because every picture by Charlotte tells a story...

Welcome...

As a business woman myself I know the importance of personal branding sessions.

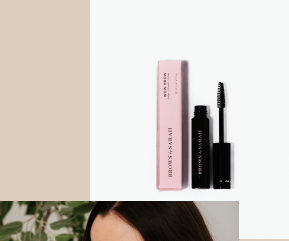

Bringing your face to the front of your brand or service and telling your story through imagery is something I pride myself on.

Whether its shot at my studio or on location, I work with each client individually and plan with them their session so we get the most out of our time together.

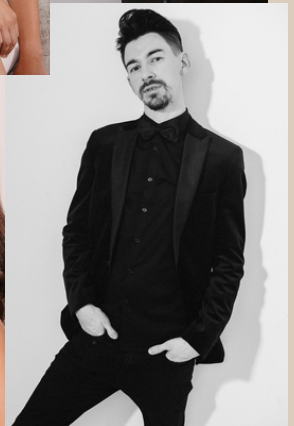

I aim to get a variety of shots that can be used for websites, brochures, socials and anything you may need a business headshot for.

Most of the women I photograph have never been front of the camera so there is no pressure to 'perform'. It is my job to get you into poses that compliment you. I will direct you throughout the shoot so all you need to think about is having fun.

We can transform the studio to work for your brand and create office set ups. Business headshots are a must at the studio. We also have the opportunity to go outside to shoot on the farm which my studio is located on if it reflects the brand correctly.
